DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1, 3, 6, and 7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Saito et al. (US Patent Publication 2002/0113924).

With respect to claim 1, Saito teaches a direct backlight module (Figure 1) comprising: a diffuser (Figure 1: SCT); a reflecting plate (REF) connected to the diffuser (SCT) by means of the frame FLM-D and forming a chamber there between; a plurality of light sources (CFL) disposed at the chamber; and at least one transparent support (TPS) disposed in the chamber to support the diffuser and the reflecting plate, wherein the at least one transparent support includes a retaining portion (Figure 6: HLD) and a supporting plate (Figure 11: FLM-U) connected to the retaining portion ([0100] lines 1-9) and disposed between the diffuser and the reflecting plate (Figure 6).

With respect to claim 3, Saito teaches that the supporting plate (Figure 11: FLM-U) contacts the diffuser (Figure 12) and the retaining portion connects the reflection plate (Figure 6).

With respect to claim 6, Saito teaches that the supporting plate (Figure 11: FLM-U) is a hollow frame.

With respect to claim 7, Saito teaches that the plurality of light sources are lamps ([0014] lines 1-2).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 17 and 18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Saito et al. (US Patent Publication 2002/0113924).

With respect to claim 17 and 18, Saito et al. does not teach the at least one transparent support comprising diffusion material or having diffusion material being coated on the at least transparent support. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill at the time of the invention to have the transparent support either comprising or coated with diffusion material to further distribute the light evenly. One would have been motivated to modify Saito et al. for the benefit of achieving optical brightness and even lighting.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 4 and 5 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments

In response to applicant's argument that the references fail to show certain features of applicant's invention, it is noted that the features upon which applicant relies (i.e., No holes are needed on the reflecting plate; and the present invention has less assembly steps which save time and cost) are not recited in the rejected claim(s). Although the claims are interpreted in light of the specification, limitations from the specification are not read into the claims. See In re Van Geuns, 988 F.2d 1181, 26 USPQ2d 1057 (Fed. Cir. 1993).
